

2024 ILADS Scientific Conference Grant Application

Canadian Healthcare Professional Application Form

The Canadian Lyme Disease Foundation (CanLyme) is dedicated to promoting research, education, diagnosis and treatment of Lyme and associated diseases. CanLyme is offering a limited number of grants to practicing Canadian healthcare professionals to cover a portion of the registration fee for the 2024 ILADS Annual Scientific Conference in San Antonio, Texas. Applications will be considered from Canadian healthcare professionals, including:

- » Medical doctors
- » Naturopathic doctors
- » Nurse practitioners

About ILADS

The International Lyme and Associated Diseases Society (ILADS) is a non-profit, international, multi-disciplinary medical society, dedicated to the diagnosis and appropriate treatment of Lyme and its associated diseases. ILADS promotes understanding of Lyme through research and education and strongly supports physicians and other healthcare professionals dedicated to advancing the standard of care for Lyme and its associated diseases.

ILADS welcomes medical practitioners, researchers and medical students who are interested in learning more about tick-borne illnesses and their management. ILADS offers effective educational programming, including a number of online course offerings. Members are part of a network of peers with diverse backgrounds, all working together to advance the care of patients with tick-borne infections.

ILADS membership is optional but very beneficial. CanLyme is not able to reimburse membership fees.

ILADS members gain access to:

- » Community of experts
- » Member forums
- » Specialization (groups based on specialties and best practices)
- » Discount for ILADS Scientific Conference
- » Physician Training Program
- » Research and Training Materials

NOVEMBER 7TH-10TH

<https://www.ilads.org/>

About the Grant

Please complete the application form and await approval notification prior to registering for the courses. Grant Eligibility Criteria:

- » Applicants must be approved by CanLyme prior to registering for the conference
- » This grant does not include ILADS online course offerings, ILADS membership fees, or travel and accommodation expenses
- » Approved applicants must register and pay through the ILADS portal
- » Reimbursement is issued after the conference
- » We require your receipt and receipt of attendance by ILADS

2024 ILADS Scientific Conference Grant Application

Personal information

NAME	PROFESSIONAL COLLEGE AND REGISTRATION #
EMAIL	ADDRESS
PHONE
PROFESSION
<input type="checkbox"/> Medical Doctor
<input type="checkbox"/> Naturopathic Doctor
<input type="checkbox"/> Nurse Practitioner

CanLyme supports healthcare professionals from a variety of communities across Canada. Please describe your specialty and the population that you serve/intend to serve as a result of this training opportunity.

A. AREA OF PRACTICE (IE: OFFICE, ER, SPECIALTY, HOMECARE, RESEARCH, ETC.)

B. COMMUNITY SERVED (IE: URBAN, RURAL, INDIGENOUS, REMOTE, ONLINE/VIRTUAL, ETC.)

C. WHAT IS YOUR INVOLVEMENT WITH TICK-BORNE DISEASES? (DIAGNOSIS, TREATMENT, PREVENTION, RESEARCH, EDUCATION, ETC)

Please submit your confidential application to educationgrants@canlyme.com. CanLyme will be notifying successful applicants on an ongoing basis. There are a limited number of grants available and these will be approved as quickly as possible with considerations to geographic location and specialty. ILADS will process your registration fee in USD. Grant reimbursements are at set amounts as follows. Please select one amount on the right.

Grant amounts
ILADS members	$1100 CAD <input type="checkbox"/>
Nonmembers	$1495 CAD <input type="checkbox"/>